

High/Scope's Child Observation Record

*Highly respected. Widely used.
Preferred by educators worldwide.*

Everything Arizona needs to monitor progress, measure outcome indicators, and much more!

The High/Scope Preschool Child Observation Record (COR) is a best practice, authentic assessment tool designed to measure and report on all aspects of children's developmental progress and help teachers plan next steps.

Consider COR because:

- COR is fully aligned with the domains and content areas in the Arizona Early Learning Standards
- COR is an observation-based assessment designed specifically for children 2½–6 years of age (infant-toddler version also available)
- COR is research-validated
- COR provides full coverage of the language and literacy, and mathematics and science foundations

COR may be used with any curriculum.

COR is designed for use in any developmentally appropriate early childhood setting

- Self-contained or fully included special education settings
- Prekindergarten classrooms
- Preschools and child care settings
- Title I Even Start Programs
- Early Childhood Block Grant Programs
- Arizona State Family Literacy Programs

COR Makes It

- Easy to collect information on each child
- Easy to inform parents about the COR process
- Easy to plan teaching strategies around COR results
- Easy to monitor progress and measure outcome indicators for Arizona's preschool children
